rest in peace ayfer its ure moment you fufil the 5 hearts of element your life were written on gods document so we all play a gospel instrument for ure soul we have built an monument this life down here is just an argument this is just feelings and statements Staring at the walls in this room Knowing that you left the world far to soon staring at the sky behind the cloud every afternoon there can ure friends find you by looking at the moon Hey, who wakes the world When there's no one that will hear Who makes the clouds in our heads disappear so i say rest in peace with the angels, we share a tear
