"Burning Heaven"

When your little life still ends in suffer
And there's no one you can trust
Then you stand alone in your dreams
By all the things you ever lost
You will close this door forever
You'll get what you deserve
Break the chains of human disaster
Leave this world...

And there is no loneliest place
And there is no darker night
And you cry out for an angel
Walking by your side
There is no loneliest place
There is no darker night
And you cry out for an angel
Walking by your side

Heaven burst--the angels fled
All around is fire
Burning feathers--burning souls
Only thrills and no desires
Who are the creatures black as coal
Splitted tongues unmask a liar
Her wings of steel, her eyes so cold
Hate's the last empires...

There's no hope in this cold world
Your teardrops freeze--you don't wonder why
Doomed to fall and doomed to die
Your freezing teardrops cracked like glass
Bore into your fragile heart
Leaving untold thousand scars
Your wings of steel--your eyes so cold
Leave this world...
