I know the darkness is your leader

There's no light inside your heart

I can't forget that your depression

Breaks my love apart

I spread my wings against your shadow

My love can't really light your shades

And I wish I could forgive you

But every day is still the same

I feel our love is not forever

Seems like a never ending one

You can't repair my bleeding soul

'Cause no one hurts like you, my dear

And I will never fly with you

Never you should see me cry

I never told my dreams to you

You could never see in my heart

But in my tears dissolves our heaven

All my love and all my dreams

I realize I can't stand your coldness

I realize too late, my dear
