There is a minute everyday
I think of how it used to be
Until I decided you weren't right for me
But every second of that minute I ask myself
If it ever will return to be
Like the chemistry that was between you and me

I'm dreaming away
I want you to know
No matter how far we are
I never let you go

You still hang on my wall
I still get the chills when you call out for me
Though I don't want it that way
You still make me believe
That your are the one thing I need
I can say, though I don't want it that way
You still hang on my wall

At home I sit alone at night
Staring at the telephone
Thinking of the days that I spent on my own (uh ooooh)
And what a silly little girl I feel like now
Nothings ever good enough for me
But I'm still hanging on to this memory

I'm dreaming away
I want you to know
I kicked you out
But boy I never let you go

You still hang on my wall
I still get the chills when you call out for me
Though I don't want it that way
You still make me believe
That your are the one thing I need
I can say, though I don't want it that way
You still hang on my wall

Hamma bee yeah yo bee yeah yo

Hamma bee yeah yo bee yeah yo
Hamma bee yeah yo bee yeah yo
Hamma bee yeah yo bee yeah yo
Hamma bee yeah yo bee yeah yo

I look into you eyes,
Into your paper eyes,
And picture paradise.

You still hang on my wall (I see your picture)
I still get the chills when you call out for me
Though I don't want it that way
You still make me believe (I see your picture)
That your are the one thing I need
I can say, though I don't want it that way
If you care at all
You still hang on my wall
You still hang on my wall
