Here comes the end again
Let's begin again
Just like we never fell apart of me
Is losing you

I doubt we ever said it
Small hands across the planet
My prayer caused so much static
My bad it's your call

All the rain's a preview
All the rain's a preview
All the pain to read through
All the pain

Here comes the end again
Let's begin again
Just like we never fell apart of me
Is losing you

You and I come recommended
My few are broken handed
So much for automatic
I thought you'd understand it

All the rain's a preview
All the rain's a preview
All the pain to read through
All the pain

Here comes the end again
Let's begin again
Just like we never fell apart of me
Is losing you

They feel like stickers in my head
Everything everything is turning red
This is more than I can handle
This is more, this is more
This is so much more

Here comes the end again

Let's begin again
Just like we never fell apart of me
Is losing you

Come on, come on
We're losing time
Come on, come on
You're out of line
