When it snows outside on this winter night
I'm looking for a trace of you
I'll never forget the time that we met
The winter when we fell in love

I know it wasn't our time We had to go our separate ways You don't know that silently I, was crying out for you to stay the years come and go but I'm still alone my tears like snowflakes falling without a sound I wish I was with you now

I'm looking for a trace of you
I'll never forget the time that we met
catching glimpses in the snow

I'm looking for a trace of you
I'll never forget the time that we met
the winter when we fell in love your name frozen on my lips icicles pierce my heart now I wait and send out my wish to find you wherever you are

my tears like snowflakes falling without a sound
I wish I was with you now

I'm looking for a trace of you
I'll never forget the time that we met
catching glimpses in the snow

I'm looking for a trace of you
I'll never forget the time that we met
the winter when we fell in love there's nothing more than I would want than to feel the warm embrace of your love but I have faith in the promise that you made and in the frosted window I, I'll see your trace

when it snows outside on this winter night
I'm looking for a trace of you
I'll never forget the time that we met
catching glimpses in the snow

I'm looking for a trace of you
I'll never forget the time that we met
the winter when we fell in love
