Strange you've always been afraid of all the plans you make
You probably just screw em up anyway
Strange to always know you're fake
Until it burns away
Leaving you with nothing mean anything

And I guess it's just my blind spot
And it's nice of you to forget me not
And she said you all should be ashamed
You're all a bunch of fakes
You never meant anything else she said
I guess it just depends on how you pick your friends
Cement head

Hey, I'm Sorry I'm freak
It just gets hard to speak
When no one ever listens to you anyway
Hey it's just some dumb excuse
The things you like to use
You pick em up and then you throw them away
And I guess it's just my blind spot
And it's nice of you to forget me not
And she said you all should be ashamed
You're all a bunch of fakes
You never meant anything else she said
I guess it just depends on how you pick your friends
You never meant anything anyway
You never meant anything anyway

I guess it's just my
And I guess it's just
And she said you all should be ashamed
You're all a bunch of fakes
You never meant anything else she said
I guess it just depends on how you pick your friends
You never meant anything anyway
I never meant
Never meant
Cement head
Cement head
Never meant nothing to me anyway
