Lovers yes I guess I've had a few
I've played the game like lovers do in the night alone
Feelin's they never meant a thing to me
I never knew how love could be until you came along
You made a believer out of me I can see it I can feel it You made a believer out of me how could I believe that it's not true after lovin' you [steel]
Forever was just a word I used to say Love was just a game I played that ended with the dawn
Funny with all the love that I've been through Now I know till I met you I never loved at all
You made a believer out of me...
