"For A Reason"

If you should ever leave for a while,
I want betray your thrust,
Just remember one thing baby,
To come back to me again.

Don't leave me waiting for far to long,
You take my breath away,
You've been here for every season,
Just like a song in my heart, you give me love.

RIT: I love you for a reason, and all the world will now,
I love you for the joy you bring,
And I swear that I'll be true.
I love you for a reason, you're heaven in my life,
I love you for the strength to give,
Girl you are my shining star,
That's the reason.

This is the place where I'd rather be,
Your arms will set me free,
Take me back to that old feeling,
To the flame you lit so bright.

Nothing you say this is the way I feel,
Will always see it through,
Cause for you I climb a mountain,
My days I'm living for you, only for you.

RIT: I love you for a reason, and all the world will now,
I love you for the joy you bring,
And I swear that I'll be true.
I love you for a reason, you're heaven in my life,
I love you for the strength to give,
Girl you are my shining star,
That's the reason...
