You can't stay
Used it up
Give them everything they say it's not enough
Hold your head up
No use sitting around waiting for the other shoe

123 drop!

No one will cry when they are dead
I hope they choke on every single word they said
To pay for every drop of blood that's shed
We'll all be alright when the walls come tumbling down

Bills to pay
And piling up
You work a little harder but you're so fed up
Deep in a hole
Looking up
No use sitting around waiting for the other show

123 drop!

No one will cry when they are dead
I hope they choke on every single word they said
To pay for every drop of blood that's shed
We'll all be alright when the walls come tumbling down
