Would you share all your differences
Or would you close all your doors
Which are locked without any code
Even if they're using force

Try to face you

And i fear this decease i have
Within me tucked away
Tearing all what comes on my path
Throw away the compliments

Mark my words, I will let you in
Someday, somehow, not now

Yeah...

On my own again
Have to stay this way for me

Don't know for how long , I'll see

Could you use that judgemental tone
Could you turn and walk away
When you know that the looks you give
Are driving me insane

Mark my words, I will let you in
Someday, somehow, not now

Yeah...

On my own again
Have to stay this way for me
Don't know for how long , I'll see
Have to stay this way for me

For me
