So pull yourself together.
I'm sick of wasting time.
I'm so familiar with this circumstance that I have nothing left offer to anyone but me.
I need to find just what it is to be alive.

So drag me out into the world,
It's nothing more then what I deserve I'm good to go I'm good to and sick of waiting on my own to brace for this disaster.
The fall hurts more than further you have to go.
So tell me something I don't already know,
There is no need for you to drag it out for too long.
Put an end to all the waiting- we are the ones who keep it up.

I'm Caught inside the confines and I can't get out. I need some stimulation to acoid the fact that I can barely keep my concentration on a common goal.

So drag me out into the world,
It's nothing more then what I deserve I'm good to go I'm good to and sick of waiting on my own to brace for
this disaster.
The fall hurts more than further you have to go.
So tell me something I don't already know,
There is no need for you to drag it out for too long.
Put an end to all the waiting- we are the ones who keep
it up.

Don't get me wrong it's nothing personal,
But I'm inclined to find out why,
It's been so long,
Is there anyone one who can tell me why I am holding on?

Don't get me wrong it's nothing personal,
But I'm inclined to find out why,
It's been so long,
Is there anyone one who can tell me why I am holding
on?

So tell me something I don't already know,
There is no need for you to drag it out,
For too long,
Put an end to all the waiting,
Keep it up,

So tell me something I don't already know,
There is no need for you to drag it out,
For too long,
Put an end to all the waiting,
Keep it up,
