When no one will listen to what ya wanna say
Your to small to young
You haven't begun
To learn the games that they play

Don't sit around just wish
It's gonna be a better day
Speak up be heard if ya don't say a word
Everything will stay the same way

If ya wanna change the way your life's arranged
Then you have that choice
To be a star that you know you are
Be loud be proud and rejoice
And find your voice
Just find your voice
You know you've got that voice
Go find your voice

You see that girl
That you know you wanna meet
Come on stop messing around
Get up off your seat
She might see inside of you
The boy you never knew
He was in there all the time
Now just let him through

If you wanna change the way your life's arranged
Then you have that choice(You have that choice)
To be the star that you know you are
Be loud be proud and rejoice
And find your voice
Just find your voice
You know you have that choice
To find your voice
