O my dear brother I am damnified at Caer Siddi For mine husband hath this twelfmonth treated me with cruelty Albe to please thee I didst cheerfully accept his proffred hand
I was ne'er wary he was ruler of y Uffern land For when his gastful subjects they didst first espy hir friendless Queen Eftsoone they wept for I to them was noughte but a living thing
Hence with despight his consorted kingdoms stony heart eshewde
And I am thrall'd to sufferance in poverty and servitude

For I am one of three great queens of the Cymry

Loneliness
Patience Wisdom
Happiness

O my brother thou art King of y Island o the Mighty Alfeare of thy rage hath placed silent sentinels at Caer Siddi Ynow for bane or worse that may betide I send my gentle bird Whilst I bemoan mine outcast state tho hold my tongues unthrifty word
There mew'd within its tamed wing mine urgent message pleads thine aid Battalious make thy complement and rescue this most piteous maid Herein this underwourldly gloom I implore thee to appear
And carry me to Aber Alaw for I am buried there

Loneliness
Patience
Wisdom
Happiness

Unigrwydd

Amynedd
Doethineb
Llavenydd

For I am one of three who broke their hearts in grief
