There's a friend who will call
When her husbands' asleep
Crossing the front lines for comfort
And she cries that she needs him
And someday he'll change
But now's not a good time to go
And it isn't my place to say leave him and run
But no love is worth all the damage he's done
But if she'll hold her ground and I'll hold my tongue
Ever the diplomat
Oh I'd like to think
That I would be stronger than that

Chorus:
Where's her head
Where's her nerve
Does part of her think this is all she deserves
Oh I would be stronger
I would not stay one minute longer
I would be stronger than that

Verse 2
It started out good, they ususally do
Then one day, it's taken for granted
Till words become weapons and love turns to pain
Oh why is she still holding on?
She says living without him is too hard to face
And I try to imagine myself in her place
But with well chosen words and well placed tears
She forgives him in 2 seconds flat
Oh I'd like to think
That I would be stronger than that

Chorus:
wheres her head
Wheres her nerve
Does part of her think
This is all she deserves
Oh I would be stronger
I would not stay one minute longer
I would be stronger than that

Well I know what she's thinking and I know what she'd say that my life and her life are like night and like day
And her love is the love that will save him
Great words, but i dont believe them
Where's here head
Oh where's her nerve
Does part of her think this is all she deserves
Oh I would be stronger
I would not stay one minute longer
I would be stronger than that
Oh I would be stronger
I would not stay on
