have I been marked can I change what's been done you've left a bloody handprint on my soul I'm standing on the edge with a lake of fire before me but I won't trip or even fall by accident you can lead me astray but I'll still find my way going away and coming back around again to find truth in what I see all around me
falling into place
the circle starts again
I won't fall
