"She Moved Thru' The Fair"

My young love said to me, "My brothers won't mind
And my father won't slight you for your lack of kind."
Then she turned her head to me and this she did say:
"It will not be long, love, till our wedding day."
She turned away from me and she moved thru' the fair
And I watched her so swiftly move here and move there.
Then she turned away homeward with one star awake

Like a swan in the evening moves over the lake.
Last night, I did dream that my dead love come in.
So softly she entered that her feet made no din,
And she turned her head to me and this she did say:
"It will not be long, love, till our wedding day."
Thank you.
