Oh, woman

I love the way you're so deliberate
How you light your cigarette
Head on one side as you pull
You look almost regal

I'm digging it, on your mobile, one eye closed
Blue smoke curling out your nose
Wearing one of my shirts
And what some call panty hose

'Cause you look wicked in scanty clothes
Long legs like an antelope
You're my antidote to city life
My pretty wife

Hooked up the year before
Together thirteen outta twenty four
And you would never guess
I wanna miss you less and see you more

See you more, see you more, see you more
And when I kiss you I'm never sure
How do I get to miss you less and see you more?

Miss you less, see you more, love to know you better
Miss you less, see you more, love to know you better
Miss you less, see you more, love to know you better
Miss you less, see you more, love to know you better

I can gauge your mood from your approach to food
You use ya rude red shoes to accessorize your attitude
Desensitized to my roving eyes
And ready smile

I get loving that's versatile, worth that extra smile lying next to me
Your textured voice whispering, I'm listening with my whole skin
Holding onto the moment for all its worth
How could I continue to be the sky without my earth

And when I kiss you, I'm never sure
And when I kiss you, I'm never sure
And when I kiss you, I'm never sure
How do I get to miss you less and see you more?

Miss you less, see you more, love to know you better
Miss you less, see you more, love to know you better
Miss you less, see you more, love to know you better
Miss you less, see you more, love to know you better

Miss you, I wanna miss you less, I wanna see you more (Just wanna try to see you better)

Miss you less, see you more, love to know you better
Miss you less, see you more, love to know you better
Miss you less, see you more, love to know you better
Miss you less, see you more, love to know you better

Miss you less, see you more, love to know you better
Miss you less, see you more, love to know you better
Miss you less, see you more, love to know you better
Miss you less, see you more, love to know you better

Oh, woman
