North Star
Where are you
Come guide me home
This love
Wont end
If I see you soon
I cant turn night to day
I can explain it
Oh please
North star, come bring me home

Its been a long time coming
But its well worth waiting
And I raise my hands
And ask for nothing more

If we are of the same mind, finally
It was worth the calamity of you being mad at me
U know I've got feelings too they come stealing through
And batter me properly revealing my sensitivity
We don't get this time for free
Take my hand and promise me your love and honesty
And this soliloquy would not have been in vain
On our journey of life lets take the slow train

(its been a long time coming)

Waiting for the train

(its well worth waiting)

Take my hand

(and I raise my hands)

We don't get this time for free

(and ask for nothing more)

Hey..

Its been a long time coming
But its well worth waiting
And I raise my hands
And ask for nothing more

(dooooddddoooooooooddddoooooooooooo.....)

L...O...N.....G..... time coming... [Echo sound effects]

Its been a loooooooooong time coming....
This bright star shining (inginging...)
