I can't explain a thing
I want everything to change and stay the same
Outside doesn't care about anyone and anything
Now come together, come apart
Only get louder when you read the charts

And oh baby, when they made me, they broke the mold
Girls used to follow me around, then I got cold
Fly your cameras in the air
And wave 'em like you just don't care

I will never believe in anything again
I will never believe in anything again
Well, change will come, oh, change will come
I will never believe in anything again

We will never believe again
Kick drum beat in my chest again, no
We will never believe again
Preach electric to a microphone stand, no

I'm the mascot for what you've become
Our love for mayhem more than the love

And oh baby, when they made me, they broke the mold
Girls used to follow me around, then I got cold
Fly your cameras in the air
And wave 'em like you just don't care

I will never believe in anything again
I will never believe in anything again
Well, change will come, oh, change will come
I will never believe in anything again

We will never believe again
Kick drum beat in my chest again, no
We will never believe again
Preach electric to a microphone stand, no

Fly your cameras in the air
And wave 'em 'cause I just don't care
Fly your cameras in the air

And wave 'em 'cause I just don't care

I will never believe in anything again
I will never believe in anything again
Oh, oh, oh, change will come, oh, change will come
I will never believe in anything again
I will never believe in anything again

Change will come, oh, change will come
I will never believe in anything again

We will never believe again
Kick drum beat in my chest again, no
We will never believe again
Preach electric to a microphone stand, no

We will never believe again
(I will never believe in anything again)
Kick drum beat in my chest again, no
We will never believe again
(I will never believe in anything again)
Preach electric to a microphone stand, no

We will never believe again
(I will never believe in anything again)
