I found the cure to growing older,
And you're the only place that feels like home.
Just so you know, you'll never know.
And some secrets weren't meant to be told,
But I found the cure to growing older.

I'm the first kid to write of hearts, lies, and friends.
And I am sorry my conscience called in sick again.
And I've got arrogance down to a science.
And I'm the first kid to write of hearts, lies, and friends.

Douse yourself in cheap perfume it's,
So fitting, so fitting of the way you are.
You can't cover it up. (Can't cover it up.)
So douse yourself in cheap perfume it's,
So fitting, so fitting of the way you are.
You can't cover it up. (Can't cover it up.)

Find a safe place, brace yourself, bite your lips.
I'm sending your fingernails and empty bottles you've sipped,
Back to your family 'cause I know you will be missed.
So you can find a safe place, brace yourself.

They call kids like us vicious and carved out of stone,
But for what we've become, we just feel more alone.
Always weigh what I've got against what I left.
So progress report: I am missing you to death.

Douse yourself in cheap perfume it's,
So fitting, so fitting of the way you are.
You can't cover it up. (Can't cover it up.)
So douse yourself in cheap perfume it's,
So fitting, so fitting of the way you are.
You can't cover it up. (Can't cover it up.)

Someone old.
No one new.
Feeling borrowed.
Always blue.

Someone old.
No one new.
Feeling borrowed.
Always blue.

Someone old.
No one new.
Feeling borrowed.
Always blue.

Someone old.
No one new.
Feeling borrowed.
Always blue.

I found the cure to growing older.
I found the cure to growing older.

Douse yourself in cheap perfume it's,
So fitting, so fitting of the way you are.
You can't cover it up. (Can't cover it up.)
So douse yourself in cheap perfume it's,
So fitting, so fitting of the way you are.
You can't cover it up. (Can't cover it up.)
