Inside a circle of derision
Feeling the cold insincerety again
While you push me away
Enter a comfortable slump
Slip away with the hours of the day
I can't keep giving in like this

It's not shocking
I've been here before
Recognizing something here in this place

Outside the walls of safety
Grown used to such a discontent
Hate for the sake of hatred
Let down again by a so-called friend
Trust's lost and down with the piss again
Fucked over for the last time

It's not shocking
I've been here before
Recognizing something here in this place
It's not shocking
I've been here before
Recognizing something here in this place

Feel so small
Place so big
Feel so small
Place so fuckin big

It's not shocking
I've been here before
Recognizing something here in this place
It's not shocking
I've been here before
Recognizing something here in this place
It's not shocking
I've been here before
Recognizing something here in this place
