Lonely night and I'm still in bed
It's cold outside and burning in my head
I wish I had someone to hold now
Thoughts pass by and I can't grab them
You're in my mind and I can't escape you
My heart cries for where you might be tonight
Uncovering the bed
Realizing you went away
Walking around the room
Not even a message.... just
Chorus
Thank you, goodbye
The pleasure was mine
If you need something just pass by
Hey there, hello
Did you have to go
I guess it was just Saturday night
I think I love you if love is right
I know I need you to be by my side
But I feel like I'm stuck to this bed
Your cheap perfume is still in the air
The sun is coming up but I don't care
I think I'd sit right here till I die
Your image in my head
An illusion that won't fade
I play you over and over again
Wondering what would be my end.... it's just
Repeat Chorus
You're breaking me down
And it's not the first time
Now I'm crying my heart out
Does it mean anything to you... or just
Repeat Chorus
