The first rat to jump ship,
always were, always will be.
Giving up, man, it's all that you know.
We took a chance on you, and you let us down
and you'll do it again.
It's nothing new
'cause you're out of control, out of control
I gotta know
what happened to you, and what were you thinking?
You'll never notice that your ship is sinking.
Where did you go wrong?
Now the joke's on you.
Cut loose what you can,
just keep in mind, man, you're tied to the tracks.
Once the fuse is lit, yeah, there's no turning back.
'Cause I've seen it before, and I'll see it again.
'cause you're out of control, out of control

I gotta know
what happened to you, and what were you thinking?
You'll never notice that your ship is sinking.
Where did you go wrong?
You had it all.
You lost control.
And who would've known you were wasted.
Where did you go wrong?
You had it all.
You lost control.
Where did you go wrong? (I need some answers!)
'cause you're out of control, out of control
I gotta know
what happened to you, and what were you thinking?
You'll never notice that your ship is sinking.
Where did you go wrong?
You had it all.
You lost control.
And who would've known you were wasted.
