Tune out the world tonight. It's you and I, so lets make the most of everything. I' still feel like giving up, but I won't because I know I've got way too much to lose.

I know because I've been there before. don't tell me what I can or can't say. I know what's best for me. You can tell your friends they don't need to waste their time talking about me behind my back.

The price I pay for inspiration is a night just like tonight, and I won't waste a second if I lack the feeling.

Hey. I think I better sit this one out, because I never thought I'd doubt you like I do. Hey. I think I better take this lying down, because I'd rather be alone then be with you.
