Call off the search
'cause I'm coming home
and this time around I'm not coming alone.
This scene will forget you ever existed and no one will miss you at all.
Recruit. Recruit.
We'll take what we get,
take what we can, and fight til the end.
If you're not with us, then you are against us and you've made your choice.
Stay out of my way.
It's not like you're any different.
You come and you go,
and march the the beat of a million others.
I wish we had more time,
but it looks like you made up your mind
and tonight it's not hard to say goodbye.
We fell victim to the curse.
Recall the young and willing.
We're better off that way.

We need someone to take your place
'cause we knew you'd never stay.
Disregard all expectations,
and never hide your face.
This is our time to make a change
and they know the deal.
Stay out of my way.
It's not like you're any different.
You come and you go,
and march the the beat of a million others.
I wish we had more time,
but it looks like you made up your mind
and tonight it's not hard to say goodbye.
We fell victim to the curse again.
We're not the same kids we used to be.
We'd expect you to understand.
A year from now they'll sell us out,
'cause you said you'd be there til the end.
