It's their religion, their decisions
That's bringin you down
They're preachin truth is colored ties
And it's wearin you down
They got the answers and they're holding them all
In front of you now
Well who's the scapegoat now

You found a better path
They pull it away from you
But what can you do when they feed you the truth
We're asking questions and what they give us
Is more and more lies
Looks like you're falling in line
Oh what a surprise
They've got the desecration of our souls
Look it's in their eyes
They can take what they want when they fill us with lies
