This place I pass, is in my eyes
The words you spoke, they blow away like leaves in time
Your clarity, it starts to need
And I am left with words I'm leaving underneath

This is oceans in, races start again
'Cause you want everything
This is oceans in, races start again
'Cause you want everything

I see beneath, I hear the breath
I feel the deep and shallow dreams I try to pass
But in this place, where echoes stay
Is just a place where I will start to find escape

This is oceans in, races start again
'Cause you want everything
This is oceans in, races start again
'Cause you want everything
Everything

Your world is crashing to the ground,
Your alone
Your world is crashing to the ground,
Your alone

This is oceans in, races start again
'Cause you want everything
This is oceans in, races start again
'Cause you want everything

(This space I pass) This is oceans in, (is in my eyes)
races start again
(It's starts in me) 'cause you want everything
(I see beneath) This is oceans in, (I hear the breath)
races start again
(It's starts in me) 'cause you want everything
