Everywhere I look
I turn cautiously
Feeling all skeptical
I search for prisons to fall

My gums taunt the rave now
Like lights through the shades spill
Where nothing is clear as it seems

Now I'll look away from all I've seen
It's all I've known, but now I've changed
It's way to dark, it hurts my eyes
I'll look away, I'll run away

Everywhere I look, I turn cautiously feeling all skeptical
I search for prisons to fall

My gums taunt the rave now
Like lights through the shades spill
Where nothing is clear as it seems

Now I'll look away from all I've seen
It's all I've known, but now I've changed
It's way to dark, it hurts my eyes
I'll look away, I'll run away
