

Falling Up "Arc To Archtilles"

The archers come to the edge of ferns
The wind it floats so cold with words
You're in and out of sleep tonight
It lead you to the shed to hide

Breathing in the dark
They're finding where you are

If you are, then you know the phone's tapped
The last of the maps are breaking codes
You've seen the night thieves
Like sharpened knife bleeds

Through the moon shows, you're in reverse
The moon shows that you're in reverse

Breathing in the dark

Breathing in the dark
They're finding where you, you are

Breathing in the dark
They're finding where you are

Breathing in the dark
