The fight is over now,
The bright lights turned somehow
The strength I have is running out,
The current pulls me down

I'm wondering

Is anybody out there,
Who's cold and incomplete, inside?
I can hear Him calling
Come and follow me, my child

The twilight turns to day,
With all your love displayed
The stars they bow in awe,
When the lost return to you

I'm wondering

Is anybody out there,
Who's cold and incomplete inside?
I can hear Him calling,
Come and follow me, my child

Draws up my heart deep from the well
Deep from the well
I know He's finding every lost and broken dream

Is anybody out there,
Who's cold and incomplete inside?
I can hear Him calling,
Come and follow me, my child

Is anybody out there,
Who's cold and incomplete inside?
I can hear him calling,
Come and follow me, my child

I can hear him calling,
Come and follow me, my child
