You take control Never let go Of everything you hold So take this in You won't win It's time to go for gold

Don't take from me You're not my only memory Don't take from me You're not my only memory Don't take from me You're not my only memory My only memory

We'll bring this down Break the crown This cannot be sold Don't take it back Be like that You have got so old

Making you frown Set to drown You'll never see That in the end you're gonna lose We all live in this world We gonna break this down
