We've walked this world so many times
I've walked alone
It blew my mind
All of these chances that I had
I've blown them all and it's so sad
How could I see this come and go
You weren't alone and I should know
But we are here for you this time
I'm here and I will walk the line
So put your hands up and sing this song
Together we'll fight
We'll show them what we have inside
Take over this world and blow their minds
I know you said that you were leaving
I know you said that you're not right
You must be mad cos you're not seeing
That I am on your side
On your
On your side

So put your hands up and sing this song
Together we'll fight
We'll show them what we have inside
Take over this world and blow their minds
Blow their minds
We will show them what to do
We will show this world
Tha we don't really care
And someday we will find the truth for all of this
And all these lies
And we will find the truth
The truth
