I tried to scratch my filthy skin
I won't believe the beauticians
I see her face in front of me
Like so many times before
I would like to believe
That this precious mind of mine
Won't give in for broken things
Like my heart in pieces

But I have feel and fought enough to see
So I let my heart believe
In a love in us
And the sun and moon and the stars above in wich
We are alive together
I see the day
When faith has past us through its way and hope
He's destine from his god
And the pieces seen together to a heart

You told me how it was to fly
See the world through different eyes
I threw myself in something else
And in the arms of love
But she could move in fimthick air
Was a brand new volunteer
So when she fell I fell instead
Of weakness to my head

So I have tried and fought enough to see
So I let my heart believe
In a love and us
And the sun and moon and the stars about in which
We are alive together
I see the day
When faith has past us through its way and hope
He is destine from his god
And the pieces seen together to a heart

I need to be believe in
Cause I can't go on otherwise
I'm bound to take this feeling
So I have to close my eyes

And believe in

Love in us

And the sun and moon and the stars above in wich

We are alive together

I see the day

When faith has past us through its way and hope

He is destine from his god

And the pieces seen together to a heart

So I will believe the love comes from a heart
