I know
When we've lost every reason
To ever make it through
We didn't have the power

All alone
Like nothing had happened
A distant trace in the sand
Bound to vanish into water

Then we found it again

Can you believe the wind has turned around?
Everything lost eventually is found
Finally we're on a different way
Bringing into future day by day
So can you believe it?
Can you believe the wind has turned around?

And we may
Keep up were the wind blows
And always stay the same
But then we just be feeling

Still we found it again

Can you believe the wind has turned around?
Everything lost eventually is found
Finally we're on a different way
Bringing into future day by day
So can you believe it?
Can you believe the wind has turned around?

We have to try
Cause all we can
Is finding faith
In all our love again
Again

Can you believe the wind has turned around?
(Can you believe it turned around?)

Everything lost eventually is found
Finally we're on a different way
Bringing into future day by day
Can you believe it?
Can you believe the wind has turned around?

The wind has turned around!
