Only you know what it means, the language that you speak
Only you can read your mind, the thought you hide and seek
It's so hard to breathe, it's so hard to move
I can't even sleep in this lonely room

Is this what I have to go through?
To be able to live my life without you
Is this what I have to feel like?
To be able to live without you by my side

Only you know what it's like, the way you live your life
Only you know how it feels, to live within your dreams
If I would run, I still couldn't hide
The torture remains to the end of time

Is this what I have to go through?
To be able to live my life without you
Is this what I have to feel like?
To be able to live without you by my side

To be able to live my life without you

To be able to live without you by my side

It's hurting so bad, it's hard to find
I want you to pass the state on my mind
Illusions I have is far from the truth
I'll never survive getting over you

Ohhh, yeah
Is this what I have to go through?
To live life without you
I be unable to go on in life
Without you

Is this what I have to go through?
To be able to live my life without you
Is this what I have to feel like?
To be able to live without you by my side

Is this what I have to go through?
Ohhh ohh, baby, without you

Without you
