"Not Waiting For Goodbye"

You reached the line
You are now crossing it
Why I continue I'm not sure
But I shared all that I had with you
And now I carry the cross of you

Why should I wait for you now?
Why should I wait for you now?

Against the night
We are alone
As you wish I'd carry you homeward
The life we never quite lived
Is the life you continue to dwell on

Why should I wait for you now?
Why should I wait for you now?
I'm not waiting for goodbye

Again I stand here alone
And I wish these feelings were gone
But I still gave all that I had to you
And I carry the cross of you

Why should I wait for you now?
Why should I wait for you now?
I'm not waiting for goodbye
