"Fools Cry"

Once upon a time there was a love
It wasn't meant to be given up

Forever free to shine.
Once it found a way in time and space

Turned our darkness into craze

Forever yours and mine.

Running wild
Far away
Sailing through the night

Burning love
A star away
Following the light.

Fools cry and then they turn around and sigh

For life's a lonely lie

No way to lose what I found and silent rain is falling down -
Whenever fools cry
Whenever fools cry.

Love
A secret journey
My crusade
A sane and daring masquerade

I'm holding on to you.

Running wild
Far away
Sailing through the night

Burning love
A star away
Following the light.

Fools cry and then they turn around and sigh

For life's a lonely lie

No way to lose what I found and silent rain is falling
down -

Whenever fools cry
Whenever fools cry.

Lifetime's another moment with you
Tender and wild

Then a tear of a fool shatters the crystal - why do fools cry ?

Running wild
Far away
Sailing through the night

Burning love
A star away
Following the light.

Fools cry and then they turn around and sigh

For life's a lonely lie

No way to lose what I found and silent rain is falling
down -

Whenever fools cry
Whenever fools cry.
