You only turn to me,
When you've been hurt by someone else.
You're always much too busy,
Feeling sorry for yourself.
My time is too precious,
For wastin' on sorrow.
So if you really want me,
To comfort you and see you through,

CHORUS:

Spend some time lovin' me,
See how happy a day can be.
Spend some time lovin' me,
And you'll be fine.
Spend some time lovin' me,
See how happy a day can be.
Spend some time lovin' me,
And you'll be fine.

I've always been here,
When you needed me to hear you cry.
But just as soon as you felt better,
You'd just say goodbye,
And leave me suspended,
In need of your lovin'.
That isn't very friendly.
So from now on, when tears are gone,

[Repeat CHORUS to fade out]
