So what if I was your lover a thousand time before you and all the others still doesn't make me a whore still doesn't make me yours
You try to say it's what happened, that you were there Well so was I
You're mine, I know this now I'll tell you something: you wear it so well

For a worn-out, splintered prison palace / Sister, you wear it so well

You're up here with angels
You look like hell
I'm not going down with you now but baby, you wear it so well
