Wake up my love,
The stars are out so we can see.

Breathe in the air,
The day is past the suns asleep.

I'll show you heaven,
If you'll trust me with your soul,
If you give me all control.

Don't shed a tear,
Cuz the pain you're feelin now,
Will leave you when we're far way from here

Here lies the path,
My feet have beaten down the tracks.

Spent all my time,
Searching for the afterlife.

Don't close your eyes,
I've got nothing here to hide,
What's hidden lies inside.

I found the way,
To release you from your hell my dear,
And free you from this place.

CHORUS:
I love the night,
I love the night,
Just take my side,
And I'll take you through the dark my love,
I'll shield you from the light.

(SOLO)

Your hands so cold,
You look as though you've seen a ghost.

Tears tumbling down,

It seems that you don't know your host.

I'm in your head,
And I've been there for so long,
Serenade you with a song.

Give me your hand,
And just step up to the ledge my dear,
There's torture down below.

You're trembling now with fear I see,
Not ready for what has to be,

You've told yourself a million times,
There is no meaning in your life,

There's one way down to end it all,
Just free yourself and take the fall,

Just hold my hand the whole way down,
We'll never even hit the ground.

We're falling now I cannot see,
There is no you there is no me,

You've thought this up for many years,
Just couldn't stand to face your fears.

CHORUS
