

Farewell "Darling Darlene"

Visit "Darling Darlene" on MotoLyrics.com

Swells are churning overboard at midnight (lover, help is on the way)
I watch you sink in to atlantic waters (all alone, on your own, don't be afraid) our love, like the arms of a sailor sturdy, substantial, and true to you

I swear I'll save you I'd die without you my darling darlene, I wont let the sea take you from me I'll dive in for you,
So don't dare think you are drowning alone
I wont say goodbye Till you're gone so please believe in me Show me a map where is the compass I packed? batten the hatch before darling gets deeper gimme a sign before I run out of time Praying to god that the darkness wont keep her sunsets and skylines you're something that I'll never forget No, I'll never forget you holding on, with open arms, I'll carry you away girl, I love you I know you're out there, and I wont be long

I said I'd save you, and I will
