

Farewell

"September Brought The Fall"

Visit "September Brought The Fall" on MotoLyrics.com

Left a post-it note on her wall, but september, yeah, brought the fall, and with every cold brath, She'll be catching her death before long - so contemptible at the card table - watching her cut the lines I'm so cynical - fucking miserable - deconstruct by design - she was only a lonely accomplice It was all for the best in the end, but I'd die to make her realize I'm only trying to get through It's long overdue - hope you're happy now - distance won't allow me to build bridges to you

It's kinda funny how you're all over town like it's the right thing to do - it's despicable how this Criminal gets away with the prize - she's so pitiful - often critical - watching others scrape by Better watch out if you fall in love with a liar, cause boy she'll tear you apart, she'll blow out The spark in your eye - better watch out if you fall victim to desire, cause boy she'll tap Out your heart, and leave you with nothing inside

Visit Farewell page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.