If you're lucky enough to have a girl who loves you,
dont let her slip away.
Make sure that she knows just how much you want her,
every single minute of the day.

Don't ever take her for granted,
be sure to tell her how you care.
Whenever she needs you just stay right by her side.
She'll feel much better if you are there

Don't ever take her for granted,
don't ever let her be blue.
hope she forgive you each time you make her cry

One day she'll find someone new,
she gave her heart, and you hold the key.
? you can loose it , so very easily.

So don't ever take her for granted , the heart that breaks may be your own.

Be thankful, she loves you for someday you may see just like me, you will be all alone.

Don't ever take her for granted,
the heart that breaks may be your own,
be thankful she loves you, for someday you may see,
just like me you will be all alone.

Don't ever take her for granted
dont ever take her for granted..
