I don't know why
I don't like all my friends
I see them. We laugh, have a drink,
Don't know what they think
They ask me, "where you going today?"
Tell them the wrong way
What's happening? Can't sit on my own
Don't want to stay home
Misgivings, I like them again
My loving I send
It's harder and darker in here
Just can't find an end
I know them, I just don't know why
I don't like all my friends
