Listen now, I'm lost in an altered world
I've chosen my way girl, now what's yours
Passed around chasing things I've never found
I'm glad when you're around I've no choice

You gave that, lost something
I was the first on my block
With a heart so in two
None could say
Say I was taken with you

Fade away, drifting to another day
I've heard them come and say
Where's your heart?
Laugh about, what do they laugh about
What can they talk about
When we're gone?

You gave that, lost something
I was the first on my block
With a heart so in two
None could say
Say I was taken with you
