Here's to the girls who serve the drinks in all the bars They're seldom ever happy but they'll make you think they are
They will laugh with you and dance with you and fill your glass with wine But they're the girls that play the same sad song on the jukebox all the time
And here's to the girls who live their life that way Cause nine out of ten of them was happy yesterday
And here's to the heart I'd broken the love I left behind She's a girl that plays the same sad song on the
jukebox all the time
Here's to the girls who work where lights're soft and dim Here's to the lonely girls may they learn to love again
The girl I love is out there somewhere so if you'll see her treat her kind

She's a girl who plays the same sad song on the
jukebox all the time
[fiddle]
Here's to the girls who work...
She's a girl who plays the same sad song on the
jukebox all the time
