(Jerry Chesnut)

You repair to her as just the other woman
And to you there's only one thing I should do
I could simply call and tell her I won't see her anymore
And I know you feel I owe that much to you.

You should do the calling ask her why she wanted me
Wouldn't you love to know what will her answer be Maybe she found something good in me you couldn't see for looking
Ask her what she ever saw in me
[ steel ] Tell her all about these four walls that surround
you
Tell her all the big important things you've missed
Tell her weddin' rings little things like children
Ask her why she'd ever envy things like these.

You should do the callingcalling ask her why she wanted me
Wouldn't you love to know what will her answer be Maybe she found something good in me you couldn't
see for looking
Ask her what she ever saw in me
[ steel ] Tell her all about these four walls that surround
you
Tell her all the big important things you've missed
Tell her weddin' rings little things like children
Ask her why she'd ever envy things like these.

Yes you should do the calling not me!
