

Farwell "A Random Night In August"

Visit "A Random Night In August" on MotoLyrics.com

The air, it feels so cold tonight
And I'm not too sure that I'll be here tomorrow
Or if I am ready to take
These consequences we call fate:we call fate

So just forget these promises I never kept
And everything that I regret
Cause we'll never know if it's time to go

So hold on tight and enjoy the ride

And if I should die tonight
Please know that everything happens for a reason
I appreciate that you all prayed
That hopefully I could be saved:I could be saved
