Tell me what are you looking for
You know it's not mine
Probe all over the floor with your
Deep blue eyes

Tell me what do you see in me
You know it's not right
I'm growing tired of simplicity tonight

So much for one girl
Too much will drown me
I've been waiting all this time

To see you please

I couldn't wait for my eyes to lie
My river flows
Walking up to your table I spy
A sight for sore eyes

People keep in mind
The sight of your eyes all aglow
I know it's hard, foolish pride

So much
So much
